PROPOSAL DEADLINE: 6/4/2018; 12:00 PM CST

INTRODUCTION:

U.S. Soybean Export Council (USSEC) requests proposals to develop and execute an issues management and crisis communications plan.

Through a global network of international offices and strong support in the U.S., USSEC helps build a preference for U.S. soybeans and soybean products, advocate for the use of soy in feed, aquaculture and human consumption, promote the benefits of soy use through education and connect industry leaders through a robust membership program.

PURPOSE OF RFP:

USSEC's standard practice is to RFP every 3 years in an openly and competitive manner. This type of cost analysis will assist in determining the fair market value for the work to be performed and allows USSEC the opportunity to evaluate various proposals and select the best contractor for the job based on experience, availability, expertise, approach, and cost

The purpose of this RFP is to seek proposals to develop and execute an issues management and crisis communications plan.

BACKGROUND & PURPOSE OF PROJECT:

Due to the recent high level of trade tensions between the United States and China, as well as other international markets, we are requesting proposals to enlist the services of an agency to provide strategic advice, message development, media relations and monitoring, and reputation management to more effectively disseminate U.S. Soy's position to domestic and international audiences in a timely manner. The contractor may also lead topic-driven spokesperson training and will be available to react to crisis situations at all times.

This work is essential to be able to reinforce the importance of U.S. Soy's customers' relationships with the U.S. as well as the importance of their purchases to U.S. farmers.

Partnership with an agency offering sophisticated, high-impact strategic experience in issues management and crisis communications, particularly related to global events and trade, will allow USSEC to further the message for U.S. farmers to the international audience.

TARGET AUDIENCE: U.S. Soy Customers (international), U.S. Farmers, international and potentially domestic media, key influencers, and partner organizations.

SCOPE (SERVICES) OF WORK:

We are seeking agencies or individuals to create and manage an issues management and crisis communications plan related to trade relationships with customers of U.S. soy. The plan should include strategic advice, message development, media relations and monitoring, and reputation management. It would be preferable if the selected firm can provide thought leadership around international public affairs and government relations.

This work will be directed by the USSEC Senior Director, Market Access.

ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATION (if applicable)

As mentioned in the Scope of Work, some messages require approval from USDA, which will require additional timeline to complete.

PROJECT TIMELINE:

Our expectation is for the Crisis Communications contract to continue until September 30, 2018. Depending upon the current trade relations situation, the contract may be extended further.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION AND BACKGROUND

BUILDING A PREFERENCE FOR U.S. SOY

USSEC's strategy can be found here: <http://ussec.org/about-ussec/vision-mission/>

USB's Long Range Strategic Plan can be found here: <http://unitedsoybean.org/about-usb/strategic-planning/>

We are a dynamic partnership of key stakeholders representing soybean producers, commodity shippers, merchandisers, allied agribusiness and agricultural organizations.

Through a global network of international offices and strong support in the U.S., we help build a preference for U.S. soybeans and soybean products, advocate for the use of soy in feed, aquaculture and human consumption, promote the benefits of soy use through education and connect industry leaders through a robust membership program.

Our 15-member board of directors is comprised of four members from the American Soybean Association (ASA), four members from the United Soybean Board (USB), and seven members representing trade, allied industry, and state organizations.

New board members are seated annually. We are receiving funding from a variety of sources including soy producer checkoff dollars invested by the USB and various state soybean councils; cooperating industry; and the American Soybean Association's investment of cost-share funding provided by the United States Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Foreign Agriculture Service.

The United Soybean Board, created by the 1990 Farm Bill to manage and direct the National Soybean Checkoff, is dedicated to marketing and research for the soybean industry. USB is comprised of 73 volunteer soybean farmers representing the interests of fellow growers nationwide. Each board member is nominated by Qualified State Soybean Boards (QSSBs) and appointed by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

Because of the limitations on administrative and salary costs established in the Act, USB outsources the majority of its program management responsibilities to USB's three primary contractors:

- SmithBucklin-St. Louis for domestic marketing, new uses, production research and Board initiative activities;
- Osborn & Barr Communications for communications/public relations activities and;
- United States Soybean Export Council (USSEC) for international marketing and global opportunities activities.

As one of these three primary contractors USSEC may also undertake initiative activities on behalf of USB. USB considers primary contractor staff (approximately 60 people) as core USB staff. These three primary contractors use a number of subcontractors and, together, these entities carry out approximately 450 projects each year for USB. USB also manages approximately 10 subcontractors.
