RFP TITLE: GREATER EUROPE MARKET ACCESS ADVISOR

RFP CONTACT:

Name: Kristen Basala

Email: kbasala@ussec.org

PROPOSAL DEADLINE: SEPTEMBER 23, 2026

INTRODUCTION:

Through a global network of international offices and strong support in the U.S., USSEC helps build a preference for U.S. soybeans and soybean products, advocates for the use of soy in livestock and aquaculture feed and human consumption, promotes the benefits of soy use through education and connects industry leaders through a robust membership program.

The U.S. Soybean Export Council (USSEC) seeks an individual or organization to provide market access advice for USSEC in the Greater Europe (EU-27, UK, and Türkiye)

PURPOSE OF RFP:

USSEC's standard practice is to RFP every 3 years in an openly and competitive manner. This type of cost analysis will assist in determining the fair market value for the work to be performed and allows USSEC the opportunity to evaluate various proposals and select the best contractor for the job based on experience, availability, expertise, approach, and cost

The purpose of this RFP is to seek proposals that will focus on assessing and providing recommended action on a variety of non-tariff measures which could impact U.S. soybean exports.

BACKGROUND & PURPOSE OF PROJECT:

Prior years have shown that the above market access challenges are becoming more intertwined. Some civil society groups have been campaigning against traditional plant protection products because they understand it is another channel to oppose plant biotechnology and new genomic techniques. In addition, negative perceptions of biotechnology continue to exist that portray biotech and pesticides as key components of large-scale intensive and unsustainable agriculture. These efforts also diminish the contributions that biotechnology, gene editing and pesticides bring to sustainable and productive agricultural systems.

Going forward, there is an opportunity for the U.S. soy industry to articulate counter-arguments to, and provide support for, these issues by educating European stakeholders on innovative farming techniques, like the precise application of plant protection products and conservation tillage facilitated by biotech crops, that allow U.S. farmers to become more sustainable than other production regions. USSEC's message points for education in the EU/UK/Turkiye need to be strengthened and refined along these lines.

TARGET AUDIENCE:

USSEC team members, industry associations, civil society, among others.

SCOPE (SERVICES) OF WORK:

- Ongoing tracking, analysis and reporting of developments on any non-tariff measure or other measures that may impact trade. Regular conference calls and meetings between USSEC and Contractor to discuss developments, progress of the program and plans for required action.
- Provide USSEC with regular bulletins and alerts on 'breaking issues' and reports that would support the program.
- USSEC and Contractor to develop education and communication materials as appropriate.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION AND BACKGROUND

BUILDING A PREFERENCE FOR U.S. SOY

USSEC's strategy can be found here: <https://ussec.org/about-ussec/>

USB's Long Range Strategic Plan can be found here:

<https://www.unitedsoybean.org/strategic-plan/>

We are a dynamic partnership of key stakeholders representing soybean producers, commodity shippers, merchandisers, allied agribusiness and agricultural organizations.

The U.S. Soybean Export Council (USSEC) focuses on attaining market access, differentiating, and elevating preference for the use of U.S. Soy for human consumption, aquaculture, and livestock feed in more than 90 countries. USSEC members represent the soy supply chain including U.S. Soy farmers, processors, commodity shippers, merchandisers, allied agribusinesses, and agricultural organizations. USSEC is funded by the Soy Checkoff, USDA Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) matching funds, and industry. Visit www.ussec.org for the latest information about USSEC and U.S. Soy internationally.

Our 15-member board of directors is comprised of four members from the American Soybean Association (ASA), four members from the United Soybean Board (USB), and seven members representing trade, allied industry, and state organizations.

New board members are seated annually. We are receiving funding from a variety of sources including soy producer checkoff dollars invested by the USB and various state soybean councils; cooperating industry; and the American Soybean Association's investment of cost-share funding provided by the United States Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Foreign Agriculture Service.

The United Soybean Board, created by the 1990 Farm Bill to manage and direct the National Soybean Checkoff, is dedicated to marketing and research for the soybean industry. USB is comprised of 73 volunteer soybean farmers representing the interests of fellow growers nationwide. Each board member is nominated by Qualified State Soybean Boards (QSSBs) and appointed by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

Because of the limitations on administrative and salary costs established in the Act, USB outsources the majority of its program management responsibilities to primary contractors. U.S. Soybean Export Council (USSEC), Inc. is contracted to manage projects for international marketing and global opportunities activities.
